

Prophetic Word

Beloved,

My heart is full of grace and kindness towards you as you continue in your journey of fellowship in My heart for you.

I see Jesus in you, and I am determined that, in My love, I will surely love you in the same way that I love Him! The very reason that Christ is in you, and that you may enjoy living in Him, is that He completes your journey into Our faithfulness.

When I look at you, I do not see anything wrong with you because your old man died on the cross with Jesus. When He rose from the dead, your new nature rose up also, and We insist on being faithful to your growing identity, in Jesus, as the Beloved.

We know that you are gradually being conformed to His likeness and We love this process with you! We do not see anything wrong in you, but We do see that some things are missing in your growth. My loving-kindness fits so well into this present gap in your learning. We see you, We love you, and We are committed to your growth in the new man!

Believe in Our love for you, as We believe in you. We love the new covenant of love, joy, peace, and freedom to become Our new creation! We are not double minded in Our passion for you. Jesus paid the full price so that you could joyfully receive the Gift of Life.

There are many wonderful gifts that belong to you in Jesus. The life We have planned for you, with you, is a breathtaking walk of adventure into the fullness that We want you to receive.

Our kind intention is that you grow into the love that We long for you to receive.

Goodness and mercy will follow you all the days of your life, empowering your personal breakthrough into a new lifestyle in Our permission. Also, Our goodness and kindness will empower you as you move into newness of life.

It is a breathtaking journey into the miracle of a Kingdom that opens your heart into the majesty of love. Let each day become filled with Our kind intention for you. Relax in Our presence and you will know the joy and peace in believing. You will always have the fullness of Our loving-kindness.

Jesus deserves for you to have the beauty of His presence.

Amen.
